Lemnitzer Is New Chief of Staff of Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer to be the new chief of staff of the Army in succession to Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

Lemnitzer has been vice chief of staff since July 1957. The White House said Taylor had requested that he not be reappointed to another term in his present term, which expires June 30.

The President reappointed the other top members of the Joint Chiefs as follows:

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. His present two-year term expires August 15.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations for a third term of two years ending in August 1961.

Gen. Thomas D. White, chief of staff of the Air Force for two years beyond next June 30.

The Marine Corps commandant is a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, whatever matters concerning the corps are under consideration. The present commandant, Gen. Randolph Pate, is serving a term which runs until next January.

Star Introduces Newspaper Vendor

HOPE STAR
YOUR HOME NEWS TODAY

Hope Star today received a shipment of five automatic newspaper vending machines, four of which will be placed at strategic points in Hope and one at Prescott.

Finest of their type, the new vendors are weather-proofed to keep the newspapers dry. A nickel dropped in the coin slot operates the machine and the reader reaches in and gets his copy.

NO EMOTION — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, handcuffed and showing no emotion, is led back to her jail cell in Ventura, Calif., after she heard a jury return a verdict of guilty of first degree murder in the death of her daughter-in-law, Olga Duncan. Moments later she lost her composure and sobbed, "I can't understand how the jury could do this to me. I didn't do it. I didn't do it." — NEA Telephoto

E. P. O'Neal, 63, Dies in Local Hospital

Ernest Paul O'Neal, aged 63, died today in a local hospital. He was a native of Pine Bluff but had lived in Hope since 1910. Mr. O'Neal, son of the late N. P. O'Neal, founder of Hope Brick Works was owner and manager of the Arkansas Machine and Specialty Co. here.

He was a veteran of World War I, a member of the Rotary Club and the First Methodist Church, and the First Methodist Church. Survivors include his wife, one son, Paul O'Neal of Hope, a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Y. Roswell of Tucson, Ariz.; a brother, Earl O'Neal and a sister, Mrs. E. W. Edwards, both of Hope.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at First Methodist Church by the Rev. Rufus Sorrells. The body will be taken to the church one hour before time of service. Arrangements are in charge of Oakcrest Funeral Home.

Active pallbearers: Jerry O'Neal, Jack Gardner, Luther Holman, H. O. Kyles Jr., George Frazier and Jack Lowe. Honorary pallbearers will be members of the Rotary Club and Century Bible Class.

Laneburg Class to Stage Annual Play

Laneburg Senior Class will present its annual play in the school auditorium Friday, March 20 at 7:30 p.m. "Do-Nothing Dan" is a 3-act comedy that promises entertainment for all.

The characters include Dale Rooker, Nancy Armstrong, Billy Lambert, Ruth Ann Saunders, May Billingsley, Mary Lowell McBride, Eva Jane McCorkle and William Harris.

Lurid Past Cited by Prosecutor

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — A prosecutor seeking the death penalty for Elizabeth Duncan says a lurid past is one of the reasons she deserves no mercy.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson told a jury Tuesday that Mrs. Duncan's hiring of two men to strangle her son's wife was preceded by 11 marriages and that she once operated a house of ill fame.

The jury, which convicted her Monday of arranging the murder of Olga Duncan, 30, last November now has the task of deciding her penalty—death or life imprisonment.

Regardless of what punishment the jury decrees, it won't take effect until Mrs. Duncan's secondary plea—innocent by reason of insanity—is decided.

6-Apartment House Guttured by Fire Here

Fire destroyed a large frame house at 222 North Louisiana Street here early today. The blaze started in the getting according to Fire Chief Pap Willis who believes it may have started from wiring.

The house was practically destroyed. Roof caved in and water damaged all six apartments in the house. All were occupied but one. Some of the occupants were able to save furniture and clothing with the help of firemen and neighbors.

Mrs. Sarah Ratcliff owned the house. The tenants included Fred Ratcliff, Linnie McWilliams, Lillian Crane and Marvin Watterson.

Macmillan Tells Canada United Policy Needed

OTTAWA (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, on his way to talks with President Eisenhower, today urged the Western powers to frame a united policy or Germany based on "firm principles combined with a readiness to negotiate."

Macmillan arrived by plane from London. Before leaving for Washington Thursday, he will (in) in Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and other Canadian officials on his Berlin crisis talks in Moscow with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Macmillan plans to see, among U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital, before he meets with Eisenhower.

Diefenbaker and other officials were on hand to greet Macmillan, who led off his remarks with a tribute to Canadian Foreign Secretary Sidney Smith, who died Tuesday.

Macmillan said it was generally accepted that West-West negotiations on Germany must take place this summer.

Speaking first in English and switching later to French, Macmillan said he went to Moscow to feel out the ground, and he believed he had attained success.

The British leader, accompanied by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd, hopes to convince Eisenhower that a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev can solve the explosive Berlin situation without shooting.

Officials in Washington expressed belief Eisenhower's expressed Monday, conditionally endorsing a summit meeting, had greatly improved the atmosphere for talks with Macmillan. The President agreed to a top level meeting in the summer if a foreign ministers' conference on Germany proposed for mid-May gives promise that the government

30 Children Involved in Sex Orgies

NEW YORK (AP)—Five girls and five boys, all between 10 and 15, were taken into custody by police Tuesday night and accused of taking part in sex orgies in the apartment of an alleged procurer.

Detectives Edward Brady and Edward Hanford said their investigation indicated that as many as 30 children participated in the sex parties over a period of more than a year.

They said the apartment was that of George Dillib, 41, married and the father of two, who was arrested recently and accused of heading a ring of $100-a-night call girls.

Dillib who used the name George Stevens when he was arrested, jumped $500 bail last month, police said, and a warrant has been issued for his arrest.

His wife, Carol, was questioned when the children were rounded up.

Police said information on the sex orgies came from Jo Anna Martin a blonde who was picked up when Dillib was arrested, after she was found nude in a man's apartment. Police claimed Dillib sent her there after a phone call.

She pleaded guilty to loitering for the purposes of prostitution and promised she would cooperate with police. She received a suspended sentence.

The names of the 10 children were not released. They were charged with being juvenile delinquents and were sent to youth homes.

Chiefs of Staff Against Cut in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chiefs of the Joint Chiefs of Staff told Congress today any cut in military foreign aid would kill hopes of modernizing and improving friendly forces receiving assistance.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining urged the House Foreign Affairs Committee to approve President Eisenhower's $3,000,000,000 foreign aid program, specifically its $1,600,000,000 military component.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy joined in support of the proposal, saying "it would be a critical mistake to curtail the program, because of isolated instances of waste and inefficiency, representing a small percentage of the total."

Twining said any limitations or reductions in the program would virtually eliminate all modernization and force improvement needed to accomplish the military assistance program's force objectives.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) said in advance of the hearing that he felt the defense chiefs should be questioned about what kind of war the United States would fight if the Berlin crisis exploded.

Home of Taxi Operator Is Dynamited

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An explosion damaged the home of a Little Rock taxi company operator early today, and police believed the blast may have been caused by dynamite. No one was hurt.

Lawrence Fisher, 50, owner-manager of the Black & White Cab Co., said he was awakened about 1 a.m. by shock and noise. He said he smelled acrid smoke and an unusual "dusty odor."

At first he thought it might have been a gas explosion, he said, but he found no evidence of that.

Going outside, Fisher saw two patrolmen approaching.

The blast had rocked houses in the residential area near the heart of Little Rock and had been felt at city hall five blocks distant.

The officers found part of a basement window of the two-story brick house had been blown away and smoke was pouring from the windows. Several windows on the first floor had been broken and some glass objects in the house had fallen and shattered.

Detectives said there was a strong smell of powder under the house and on some pieces of wreckage. They said a piece of fuse was found in the street about 20 feet from the house.

A detective spokesman said a preliminary investigation led to a theory that some "lose explosives, possibly dynamite" had been shoved against a heavy screen over the basement window which is about three feet above street level.

Officers had no statement about any possible motive and Fisher declined to comment when asked about it.

Fisher and his wife were the only persons on the lower floor. The upper story of the house, which Fisher owns, is divided into three apartments and he said at least two persons were upstairs at the time of the blast.

"I didn't know what to think when I woke up," Fisher told newsmen. "I'd been to an American Legion meeting last night and heard a speech about communism—at first I thought the Communists were after me."

Detectives were continuing their investigation.

Fisher said damage was minor.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

It won't be anytime soon but in the future Hope's Police Department will be moved to City Hall... that's the word from a city official today... but before this move can be made City Hall, the most inconvenient building in town, will have to be remodeled... even now remodeling plans are being studied by city officials.

here's a suggestion — why not use a portion of the spacious lawn for off-street parking around the entire block? The land it would require is the length of an auto around the block... and it wouldn't hurt the looks of the lawn.

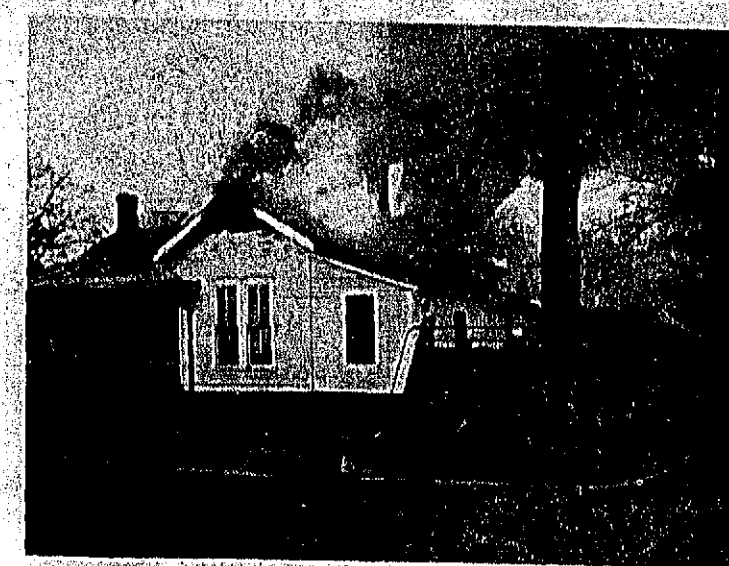

A Chili Supper, sponsored by the Auxiliary Force, will be held March 20 at 6 p.m. at the WOW Hall... Admission is $1.00 for adults and children can eat free if accompanied by parents... The proceeds from the benefit supper will be used to purchase equipment for the Auxiliary force.

The "Putting Patch," miniature golf course at Fair park will open this afternoon at 4 o'clock for summer and fall... the course closes at 10:30 p.m., six days a week... Royce Barbee and Jimmy Compton are co-owners.

Pat McGill, Hendrix College junior from Hope, has been selected to serve as resident assistant in Galloway Hall next year, according to Mrs. Ella Myrl Shanks, dean of women... An English major, Miss McGill is vice president of West Hall... she is a member of Cardinal Key National Honor Society, Alpha Chi, national scholarship society and on the editorial board of Potpourri, campus literary magazine... she is also a member of the Student Senate Publications and Women's Orientation Committees... she is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Bannister of Hope.

A SIX-APARTMENT house caught fire and burned today at 222 N. Louisiana Street. Occupants of the five apartments filled last most of their possessions. The blaze caught at about 6 a. m. Estimate of the loss could not be determined immediately.

Gun Battle in Love Triangle Leaves 2 Dead

HOLLYWOOD — Two men died in a bedroom gun battle today which police said broke out after one tried to interfere in a love triangle involving the other.

James Earl Ray, 34, was a partner in three Los Angeles restaurants, and Jack Sorin, 47, year-old jazz musician.

Investigators said the shootings took place in a house that was rented recently by Dorothy Chester, 38.

Mrs. Chester, identified as the central figure in the dispute, is the wife of Simon Chester, wealthy Los Angeles produce dealer.

She told police that Sorin was her cousin and had been living at the Chester home in Los Angeles for several years.

Detective Sgt. Robert Beck said Mrs. Chester had been separated from her husband for several weeks and that Sorin came to her newly rented house here Tuesday night to urge her to return to Chester.

The detective said Sorin evidently carried two weapons—an automatic and a revolver—but gave up one of them in a scuffle with Sorin.

He then produced the other and the two men duelled to the death, Beck said.

Truman Turns Down Editor's Job

BOSTON (AP)—Former President Harry Truman has turned down an offer to be a newspaper editor for a day.

The job was offered him by the Boston Globe after Truman told the University of Missouri School of Journalism that he wished he could be a newspaper editor for a while.

The Globe said it received a letter from Truman Tuesday in which he refused the offer, and said: "You see, the difference between your profession and mine is that the editors know all about how another man's business ought to be run, while I do not pretend to know the mechanics of yours."

Collision Claims Its 4th Victim

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—T. J. Cassidy, 59, of Trumann died in a Jonesboro hospital today of injuries suffered in a highway collision which killed his wife and two other persons Sunday.

The other victims of the head-on crash of two automobiles on state Highway 1 near Jonesboro were Mrs. Cassidy 34; Wayne Chesser, 31, and his mother, Mrs. Edna Chesser 64 both of Paragould.

Witnesses told State Police the Cassidy car went out of control, crossed the center line of the highway and collided with the other vehicle.

Mrs. Chesser was killed instantly and Chesser and Mrs. Cassidy died about an hour later at a Jonesboro hospital.

Cassidy is survived by two sons, six daughters and a stepson. The body was taken to a funeral home at Marked Tree. Arrangements were incomplete.

Dalton Hulsey, 48, Is Killed Almost Instantly

Dalton Hulsey, aged 48 of Washington, was killed in a tractor accident, about 12:30 p.m. today, a mile west of Washington on an old logging road.

He was engaged in loading logs on a truck when the tractor, which he was using, flipped backward, pinning him underneath. Gasoline from the tractor ignited and badly burned his body, a logging crew reported. He was dead when a Herndon-Correll ambulance arrived at the scene.

Mr. Hulsey was a former deputy sheriff of Hempstead and at the present was working at the Arkansas State Plant. He had a cotton chocking station between Hope and Texarkana. He had lived in Washington many years.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Albert Hulsey of Washington three daughters, Dorothy and Billie Jo and Betty Sue Hulsey, two sons, George and Terry Dean, and a brother, Thurston Hulsey.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Bill Signed Making Hawaii a Legal State

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed the bill to make Hawaii the 50th state.

With the bill's signing, Hawaii could, by taking fast action, get officially into the Union by next July. This would be in time to send members to the present session of Congress, October is more likely, however, it took six months to add Alaska's 49th star to the flag.

Territorial Gov. William Quinn has 30 days after formal notification of the President's approval in which to issue a proclamation of elections.

A primary must be held no less than 60 nor more than 90 days after the proclamation. General election must come no later than 40 days after the primary.

Eisenhower's proclamation making Hawaii the 50th state will come after the election results are officially certified. There is no fixed time limit on the presidential action.

Final congressional action on the admission of Hawaii came March 12 in a 393-0 House vote. The Senate voted 78-15 a day earlier.

Eisenhower got the bill March 13 but used only four of the 10 days he had for signing or vetoing Sunday's don't count.

GE Fires Plant Strike Trappers

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (AP)—Serving notice that "we are not obliged to treat trespassers as hotel guests," General Electric officials Tuesday fired the last two sit-in strikers at the GE plant here.

Union officials said the company dispatched a man who cut the rope being used to hoist food to the men on the third floor of the plant.

The two were fired after the union decided to replace the rope with a crane which was supplied by Peter Weber business manager of Local 625 of the Operating Engineers Union.

At Hartnett, secretary-treasurer of the International Union of Electrical Workers called General Electric's policy dictatorial.

GE maintained the men were fired for "gross insubordination." The two men were among nearly a score of sit-in strikers who began a protest last Friday of General Electric's decision to close the plant.

The two left the plant as soon as they were fired.

ter House action, total new funds of $4,828,097,000 to operate the Treasury and Post Office departments and the Tax Court for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $60,230,000 less than the President requested but $518,300,000 more than current year appropriations. Most of the boost was attributed to pay raises Congress voted last summer.

The Treasury's share of the total is $779,402,000. It sought $787

712,000. The Post Office Department was allotted $3,847,160,000, a reduction of $51,920,000 from its request. The Tax Court was given all the $1,835,000 it requested.

Overall effect of the committee's action is to provide employment in the three agencies for 661,000 instead of the 667,000 requested. Current average employment is 648,000.

There was no reduction in funds requested by the Secret Service.

Man With No Principle Gets Lots of Interest

for kidding around.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I have known a bachelor for the past 12 years. He's been going with a woman who, though separated from her husband, cannot get a divorce because her religion forbids it. The man is in his late 40s, very eligible and most attractive. He has asked me out on dates from time to time and I have eagerly accepted, hoping that he was breaking off with this woman. However, he still sees her weekends and invites me out on odd nights. He has told me several times about where he spends his time, hoping to keep me on the string while he hides his love life from me. Should I let him know that I am aware of the other woman or play dumb, hoping he will straighten things out some day? — Pamela.

Dear Pamela: This is a nasty mess indeed. You and your eligible bachelor are adults acting in a manner that would horrify most teenagers. He wants to eat his cake, save it and keep enough for emergency crumbs. He and the other woman are held together by friendship. If he seriously wanted to date and marry someone else, he should be honorable enough to let her know it. He's playing cat and mouse with you, you're doing the same with him. Act like grown-ups. Tell him you know about the friendship, ask if there's anything more to it than appears on the surface, tell him you want your relationship stamped "honorable" regardless of what the future may hold. Put the triangle on the level. You're too old for kidding around.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My 24 year old brother lives alone in a small pension. Every day I visit him, do his housework and cooking and buy all the things he needs, aside from food and rent. Which are taken care of by his pension. I have five brothers and sisters, all of whom live in the immediate neighborhood, but they won't help a bit with father. I'd appreciate just a little help, financially or otherwise. I don't want to see him go to a home for the aged and I don't have room for him — Mrs. P. L.

Dear Mrs. P. L.: Take the case to Family Court. Your brothers can be forced to contribute to dad's support. You may not get personal help with his care, but brothers and sisters may be shamed into helping financially through fear of public opinion. What will need to be said frequently is more influential than ones own sense of responsibility and loyalty.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
The organization I belong to has a formal dance every spring. The boys like to invite doesn't dance very well. He took dancing lessons at one time but the teacher wasn't very good. I'm a tall girl, and for that reason there aren't many boys I can ask. I've known this particular boy for several years and we're very good friends. I'm 14, he's 16. How can his dancing be improved? — Hilda.

Dear Hilda: Please accept my compliments on a very well written letter for a freshman. Organize a small dancing class in your own home. Have two or three sessions a week. (Time is growing short) and with other girls helping out, I'm sure you'll make the boy good enough to keep off your feet. He may never be a Fred Astaire but we can't have everything, can we?

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I expect my boy friend to call every night. He says I'm unreasonable. Who is right? — Jennie.

Dear Jennie: The U. J. When he feels he has to call every night, telephoning becomes a matter of duty, not a desire. From there, it turns into a disagreeable task and let you finish the story yourself. She who makes demands, at 14 is a nag at 24 and a shrew at 34. Watch yourself.

Laster Suit Is

Slated to Open

THE ROCK (AP) — A suit challenging the election of Traffic Judge Robert W. Laster to the Little Rock School Board was taken up today in Pulaski Circuit Court today.

Mrs. Charles W. Stephens is contesting Laster's election on the contention that about 600 votes were cast illegally. Mrs. Stephens opposed Laster in the Dec. 6 election and lost by 180 votes.

Judge J. Mitchell Cockrell set the suit for hearing without jury.

Laster should be ousted from the board, a 3-3 split between moderates and a strong segregationists on the six-member board apparently would be broken.

Laster has advanced a plan to part in a summit parley if such a meeting is justified. On the basis of his findings in Moscow, Paris and Bonn, Macmillan seems pretty sure developments will justify such a conference.

Would Rather Get Death
Than Life

By IRWIN J. MILLER

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Nicholas said today she would rather go to the electric chair than get a life-prison term for the slaying of her married lover outside his younger girl friend's apartment.

"I definitely prefer a death sentence to life imprisonment," the middle-aged career woman told newsmen during a recess on the second day of her murder trial.

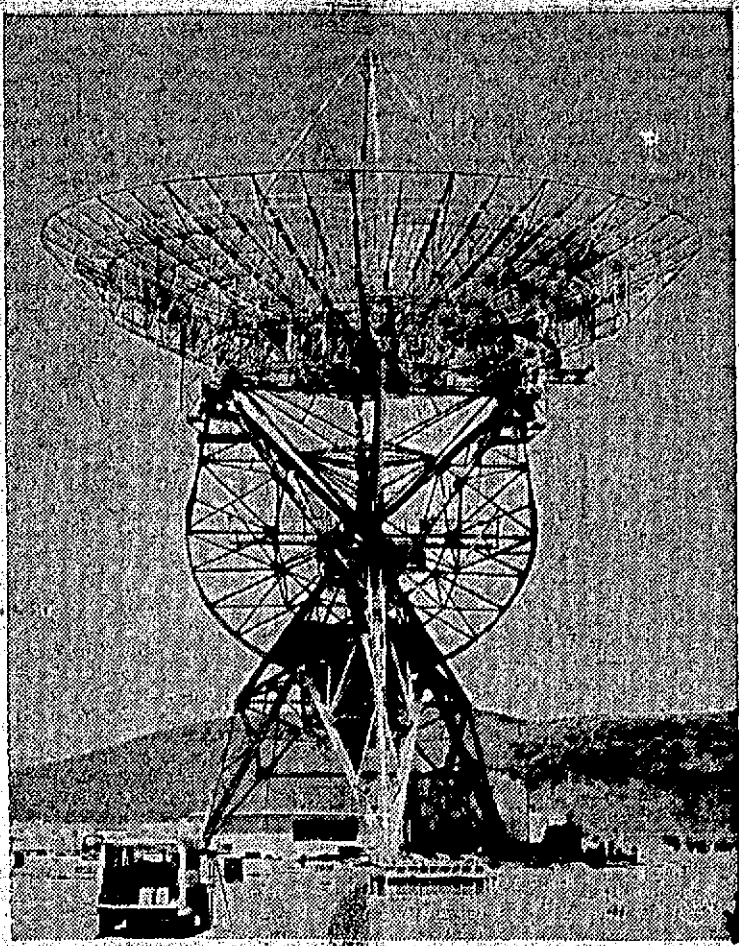

Even the possibility of time off for good behavior or committing of a life sentence "wouldn't make any difference," she added.

After the state tentatively accepted a jury of nine men and three women, defense lawyers began their rejections.

Bessie Oberling, a Bible school teacher, was removed by the defense after she said she believed Mrs. Nicholas should take the stand. The defense has promised that she will, although she cannot be forced to.

The defense accepted Hildegarde Hayes, wife of an employee of Eli Lilly & Co., where the slaying victim, Forrest Teel, was an executive vice president. But his announced objection to the death penalty marked her for likely rejection by the state.

Mrs. Nicholas, reappearing in the same gray suit and black hat she wore on the opening day, looked more rested and reported, "I slept maybe four or five hours. I think I could have used four or

I gave Varney the routine, dead pan, about meeting Sandy at the office, both of us staying at the Inn, and the rest of it.
"Sure. You don't have to explain to me." He paused, and his grin died. "Uh, I know she'll only be here for a couple of days, but would you mind asking her to keep mum — about seeing me with Ginny?"
"Be glad to."
From outside a car horn blared, twice.
"Ginny's getting impatient," Varney said. "See you later, Bennett."
He ran along and I returned to the table.
I filed Sandy in. She promised not to mention that she'd seen Philip Varney, personnel director, in the company of Miss Ginny Masters, daughter of the executive vice president. We had a very good dinner. Afterward I dropped Sandy at the Maple Inn, and walked to the square. An old man reclining on a bench in front of the court house told me that the Y.M.C.A. was one block down, on the corner of Division and South Streets.

It was a converted brick mansion directly across the street from the police station. Gebhart lived in room 104.
When I knocked, the door was opened. I faced a big man wearing outlandish striped pajamas, pink and green. He was bald and wore darkrimmed glasses. His eyes were huge behind the thick lenses. I said, "My name is Bennett. I work for Buckeye. Can I speak with you for a moment?"
"What's it about?"
I gave him a keen, executive stare. "It's about that shipment for Portage Foundry."

"All right. So they found out. He waved an arm angrily. "Go ahead. Fire me!"
"Mr. Gebhart," I said, "calm down. I just wanted to ask why you blacked out the addresses of the Portage Foundry and Alexander Steel shipments—and then stenciled the same names on their again?"
"Because it was silly," he said instantly. "What possible reason could there be for such ridiculous instructions? I've worked for the Buckeye corporation for 14 years. I know positively that the Portage Foundry and Alexander Steel companies buy exactly the same type of wheels, identical specifications in diameter, thickness, hole size, grain and grade. I could see no valid reason for interchanging the shipments."

"All right Mr. Gebhart. Thanks."
I crossed the street to the police station and entered a large room where a young sergeant sat behind a high desk. I gave him my name, asked if the chief was in, and if so, could I see him. The chief was in. I heard him say, on the intercom: "Never heard of him, Jack, but send him in. Just send him right in." He sounded like a jolly department store Santa Claus.

The sergeant pointed across the room. "Over there, sir."
The door was open and the chief was sitting with his feet on the corner of a battered desk. He didn't resemble Santa Claus at all. He was thin to the point of emaciation, his nose was long, his chin pointed, his eyes small and set in deep sockets, close beside the nose. Sparse hair was plastered over his narrow, balding skull. He wore wrinkled seersucker trousers and a flamboyant flowered sport shirt, open at the neck. He was smoking a cigarette in a long ivory holder, and he looked as much like a police chief as Cyrano de Bergerac.

As I stepped inside, he greeted me in his deep, jolly voice. "Come right in, Mr. Bennett, and have a seat." He didn't offer to shake hands, but was so genial I was certain he meant no slight. I sat in a chair beside his desk, took out my wallet and showed him my license.

He showed pink toothless gums and said, "Pleased to meet you, Mr. Bennett. My name is Nathaniel Kree. My friends call me Nate. You call me Nate, too. I suppose you go by Jim?"

"That's right."
"Fine, Jim. He leaned back in his chair and flicked ashes to the floor. "To the best of my knowledge you are the first private detective to visit our fair city — at least during my regime, and that's 16 years. What's on your mind?"

I decided to take a chance with Kree. After all, as Sandy had observed, I was desperate. "Mr. Kree," I said, "I need information."

"Nate," he said gently. "Remember, Jim?"

"Jim, sorry — Nate. I gulped at him."
"Good." He plucked at his gaudy shirt. "I suppose you're wondering why a police chief is sitting in his office wearing duds like this?"

"It's none of my business."

"It's like this; my office is the only place I can have peace. Mrs. Kree and I are keeping the grandchildren for a couple of weeks while our son and his wife take a vacation trip, and those kids are driving me nuts."
"I'm sorry to have bothered you then."

He waved a hand magnanimously. "That's all right, Jim. What kind of information do you need?"

I told him why I was in Maple Hill.

He gave me a sly grin. "Bit off a big chunk, hey, Jim?"
"I'm afraid so. I want to ask you about some people. I suppose you're pretty well acquainted here?"

"I sure am. This is a small town. Besides, a police chief has got to keep his fingers on things. I'll start with Logan Masters. (To Be Continued)

Unopposed Candidate Has to Be Elected

PORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Commissioner Hugh Brewer, who is unopposed for office, is going to have to be re-elected anyway, and at a cost of $2,000, to Fort Smith.

Although other commissioners won't have to be voted on until later, City Attorney Petus Kincannon says balloting will be required to make anything official on Brewer's continued tenure.

"The law is just set up that way," Kincannon said. He said two elections would be necessary, one March 24 and the other April 7, each costing about $1,000. The second election is a compulsory procedure.

AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

End of Audit Report.

WHAT IS ABC?

The Audit Bureau of Circulations, Chicago, by its own definition is: "A co-operative association of advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers for the verification of circulation of newspaper and periodical members in the United States and Canada."

It is controlled by those who buy advertising (manufacturing, merchandising and service companies, and their agencies) rather than those who sell advertising (newspapers and magazines).

COST OF ADVERTISING

Pick up an invoice for newspaper advertising and you will find that you are billed for so many column-inches at so much per inch. That's how it is billed — but that isn't how it is sold.

The price of an inch of advertising is meaningless unless you know what the paper's circulation is. When you know that you know the cost.

The cost of advertising is the cost per inch per thousand circulation. That's the great yardstick by which advertising is bought and sold from coast to coast. The national advertisers call it "the milline" — the cost per line (1/14th of an inch) per million circulation.

Now you know why ABC audits are important. They verify circulation — the factor which is combined with the publisher's charge per inch to establish the advertising cost yardstick.

IT'S CHEAP TODAY

Hope Star's local advertising costs about the same today as in 1929. The rate-per-inch is higher, it is true — but circulation also has increased. Here is the comparison:

	1929	1959
Local "open" rate per inch per thousand	20c	25.8c

And that's a performance we feel deserves a page advertisement all its own.

Yankees Trying for a Trade With Senators

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press-Sports Writer

Finished with success but apprehensive about the quality of their pitching staff, the World Champion New York Yankees today prepared to sit down at the bargaining table.

Object: A trade with Washington. Subject: Relief specialist Dick Hyde.

Hyde, unknown—but expected to include at least a trio of Yankee rookies or benchwarmers.

Hyde, who pitched underhand, compiled a 103 1/2-win record and a brilliant 1.75 earned run average while saving a host of games for the last-place Senators last year.

Washington owner Calvin Griffith, apparently willing to part with his bullpen ace in order to bolster other areas, has been holding out for a better offer from Yankee General Manager George Weiss.

The Senators defeated Pittsburgh 4-1 Tuesday in one of the three exhibition games played as the second day. In other games, Boston beat San Francisco 6-1 and Cleveland triumphed 4-1 over Chicago's Cubs.

Hyde allowed the Pirates' only run but pitched strongly in relief of Chuck Stobbs, who blanked Pittsburgh for the first five innings. Roy Sievers gave Washington all the runs it needed with a two-run home in the first.

Frank Sullivan, who pitched six

Pro Cage Playoff Games Continue

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pesky Syracuse Nationals meet the Celtics in Boston tonight in the first game of the playoffs for the National Basketball Association Eastern division title while the Detroit Pistons and Minneapolis Lakers have some unfinished business in the West.

With the best-of-three series tied at 1-1, the Pistons-Lakers clash at Minneapolis will decide who meets the St. Louis Hawks in the Western division finals. The first game will be played Saturday night in St. Louis.

Syracuse, which finished third in the regular season race, knocked the second-place New York Knicks out of their best-of-three series in two straight games. The Nats beat the Knicks in New York 129-123 and 131-115 at Syracuse.

The second of the best-of-seven series will be played in Syracuse on Saturday and the teams return to Boston Sunday afternoon.

In the Western division, Minneapolis beat out Detroit for second place behind St. Louis. In the first playoff game at St. Paul, Minneapolis defeated Detroit 92-89, but at Detroit the Pistons won 117-103.

The first of the Western best-of-seven series final will be played at St. Louis with the next at Minneapolis or Detroit March 22. The third will be in St. Louis March 24.

Innings and relief: Herb Moford limited the "hardhitting" Giants to four hits. Ted Lepcio homered for the Red Sox, who boosted their exhibition record to 81 best in both leagues.

Cleveland's 13-hit attack including Woody Held's homer, was too much for the Cubs, who got home runs from Ernie Banks, Lee Walls and Bobby Thomson. Five runs in the last two innings won it for the Indians.

DOGS

BATHING
By FARLEY MANNING
National Dog Welfare Guild

Some dog owners believe that a dog keeps himself reasonably clean and doesn't need to be bathed, or that baths are harmful to a dog, especially in cold weather. Others believe that a dog should be bathed regularly. Generally speaking, a dog should be washed only when necessary because too frequent washing carries away the natural oils, leaves the coat looking bad, and reduces protection against rain and cold. If the dog is kept outside, a couple of baths a year will suffice. If he is kept in the house, however, where he has very little chance to roll in the dirt, which acts as a dry bath, and where a "doggy" odor is particularly objectionable, you may want to wash him as often as once a month. Keep in mind that carriers of canine diseases thrive in dirt.

In bathing a dog, it is important to use a soap or shampoo made especially for dogs as it contains ingredients to kill fleas and other canine parasites and to get rid of "doggy" odor. A dog's skin is more sensitive than a human's. Therefore it doesn't make sense to use a household soap or detergent containing any harsh or irritating substances.

The bathtub is fine for the bath and, if you are worried about clogging the plumbing, put a ball of steel wool at the drain to collect the loose hairs. A rubber mat will give the dog a secure footing. Keep the water about as warm as you would for a baby and no higher than half-way up his legs. Plug his ears loosely with cotton. Lift the dog into the tub gently to prevent him from getting

Second Seeded St. Louis Beat by Providence

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"It's unbelievable. It's unbelievable." That's what Coach Joe Mulaney of Providence College kept shouting Tuesday night after his "Cinderella" team beat second seeded St. Louis 75-72 in double overtime to reach the semifinals of the National Invitational Tournament.

New York University also advanced to Thursday's semifinals with an easy 83-48 victory over Oklahoma City. This second game

Hospital Board Dispute to Be Resumed

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A hearing challenging the status of the Duchesne General Hospital's board of directors resumes here today.

The hearing, which began yesterday, was called by County Judge H.C. Warren for the board to show cause why it shouldn't be removed from office on the basis of a citizens committee report on hospital operations.

A legal feud erupted between Warren and the board after he asked the seven members to resign and they refused. Warren then appointed the citizens committee to study hospital operations.

The report, unsigned by committee members, was read into the record yesterday.

It charged that no monthly financial report was filed by the hospital with the county court as required by law; criticized the letting of a hospital laundry contract to J. M. Reed, a board member, and alleged that at times hospital patients were advised they could not leave the hospital until arrangements for paying their bills were made.

Under cross examination by board attorneys, several of the citizens committee members admitted that they had interviewed only those witnesses summoned by Warren and that they had not consulted with any board members.

Frightened, if he's likely to resist, tie him with his leash to something nearby to keep him from jumping out.

Many people believe a dog naturally hates to be bathed. Actually, some dogs dislike baths, but this is more a case of an initial frightening experience than an inborn attitude. Some dogs love them.

After his bath, rub him briskly with a towel and keep him indoors for at least two hours to give the coat enough time to dry thoroughly.

A puppy should not be bathed at all until he's three or four months old. Also, it's not advisable to tub a very old or sick dog. But, they still need to be kept clean and in these cases, one of the waterless cleaners can be used.

of the basketball doubleheader at Madison Square Garden was strictly an anticlimax to the crowd of 14,269.

Providence, which upset Manhattan 68-66 last Saturday in the last six seconds of play, now is pitted against St. John's of New York while NYU goes against top seeded Bradley.

It was 66-65 in the first overtime when Providence got a break. They lost the ball on a bad pass out of bounds with 47 seconds left. But Big Bob Perry, who led St. Louis with 29 points, missed a shot with only three seconds to go.

Ferry did put St. Louis ahead 68-67 on a three-point play in the second overtime but soph Johnny Egan then canned two free throws to put the Friars in front for good at 69-68. With 16 seconds remaining, Perry got his 12th basket to make it 73-72. Egan, however, again dunked two free throws with 10 seconds left to sew it up. Len Wilkins scored 30 points and Egan 29 to pace the Friars.

Oklahoma City made only one threat in the second game, NYU took an 11-2 lead, but the Chiefs pulled up to 28-28 just before the end of the half. The Violets quickly opened an 11-point lead in the second half and were never headed.

Championship Fight Tonight at Los Angeles

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The featherweight championship of the world goes on the block tonight with a fight between a 16-year-old contender from America's Deep South and a 24-year-old champion from Nigeria.

The site is the Olympic Auditorium, the time 7 p.m. Pacific Standard, and fight fans across the nation, barring the Southern California region, can see it over the ABC-TV network.

It is Bassey's second defense of the crown and it certainly should be a tough and more exciting than the first. That was last April when the little tiger from Nigeria belted out Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno in Los Angeles' Whittier Field in three rounds.

Bassey and his English manager, George Biddies, conceded that Moore, the 16-year-old contender, poses a threat. Biddies says the hard-hitting, young man from Springfield, Ohio, is the best Bassey has met in America.

That would include ex-champion Willie Pep, whom he stopped in nine brawling rounds in Boston last September. Carmelo (Cosini) Ernesto Parra and Miguel Berrios, as well as Moreno.

Moore clinched the title fight by also stopping Moreno — he did it in one round — but his calibre of opponents isn't impressive.

By the same token, the class of Bassey's vanquished rivals isn't known on this side of the ocean.

In any event, Los Angeles fans have seen both in action, and off these performances, tonight's affair should be spectacular.

Scoring will be by a referee and two judges, using the 10-point per round system — 10 to the winner, nine or less to the loser.

Neither has ever been counted out. Moore has been floored only once; Bassey several times. Bassey has lost twice on cut eyes.

African Outbreak Under Control

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP) — The Earl of Perth, Britain's minister of state for colonial affairs, headed home today reporting that the British protectorate's nationalist rebellion under control.

Lord Perth made a five-day investigation following an outbreak of sabotage, arson and looting to back demands by the Nyasaland African National party for a break with the Central African Federation dominated by whites in South Rhodesia and guarantees for future independence. A state of emergency was declared in South Rhodesia and Nyasaland, the African National party was outlawed and hundreds of its members were arrested.

Former Athletics' Hurler Succumbs

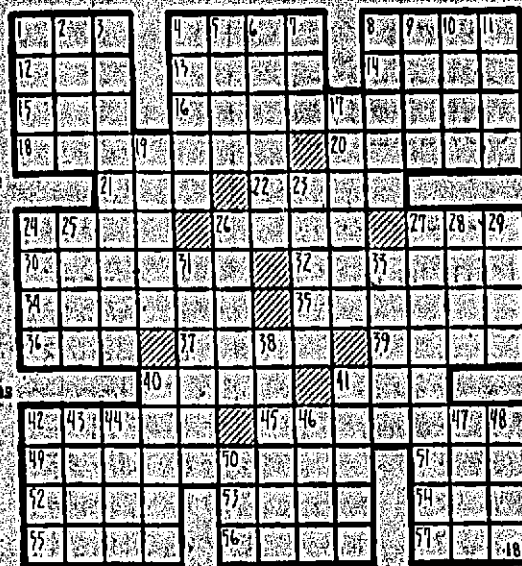

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Howard Ehmke, 65, a pitcher for the old Philadelphia Athletics, died in a hospital today.

Ehmke's career was highlighted in his facing baseball years when, at the age of 30, Manager Connie Mack called on him as a surprise starter in the 1929 World Series against the Chicago Cubs.

Ehmke responded by pitching a masterful game, with 13 strikeouts, that stood as a World Series record until Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers struck out 14 New York Yankees in the 1953 World Series.

Little Rock (AP)—A suit contesting the election of Traffic Judge Robert W. Laster to the Little Rock School Board will be heard before Circuit Judge J. Mitchell Coker III here tomorrow. Mrs. Charles W. Stephens, who lost to Laster in the race last December, filed the suit and alleged that 500 persons voted illegally. Laster has denied this.

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—A week-old labor dispute that idled union workers on a school construction project here was settled yesterday. The dispute arose when workers of Local 437, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, objected to the electrical subcontractor on the Hugh Goodwin Elementary School job. They left the job and workers of other crafts joined them. It was announced yesterday that the subcontractor had been replaced by Ellen Brothers Electric Co. of El Dorado, and the dispute resolved.
